

6-Video/3-DVD Seminar:

Pastoral Response to a Sexually Broken World

“ Mario's teaching on redemption gives us a powerful tool for healing in an age when hope sometimes seems eclipsed by the darkness of our times. His scripturally-based teachings are peppered with wisdom and experience, and his ministry moves in the power of the Spirit. I heartily commend these videos to any pastor who is serious about caring for his sheep.”

The Rev. Eirik Olsen

Associate Pastor, Pastoral Care • Church of the Resurrection, Wheaton, IL

“ I meet many church leaders who want the church to address issues of homosexuality and other forms of sexual brokenness with both compassion and conviction. That unique blend sets these tapes apart.”

Kevin Miller

Vice President, Christianity Today International

“ As one who has worked with sexually and relationally broken Christians for over 17 years, I would highly recommend these videos. They are direct, pertinent and concise, with sound and truthful information. I am very impressed with their psychological and biblical content, and with the presenters.”

“ I definitely encourage anyone who is a pastoral caregiver to add these videos to their resource library. We have incorporated them into our individual counseling sessions as well as our group sessions.”

Michael S. Babb

Director, Freedom At Last Ministries and Exodus International Mid-Central Regional Representative

“ Pastoral Response to a Sexually Broken World tackles subjects that are not usually discussed in church. The talks demonstrate that God's healing and salvation reaches even the sexually obsessed. Pastors, counselors and lay leaders would benefit from these lectures.”

Dr. James Stamoolis

author and consultant • former Dean of Wheaton College Graduate School

“ I am impressed with this series that addresses the up-front, everyday issues for the Church. The first video in the series was just excellent—the best presentation I've seen on the subject of homosexuality! We will be using the entire series in our new core group Sunday School class this year.”

Rev. John D. Billow

“If the gospel has nothing to say on the issues of sexual brokenness, then our evangelism and ministry will be inconsequential for this generation and time in history.

The church must learn how to extend the invitation to healing. People in our churches are longing for help in their drivenness, sexual addiction, brokenness and hurt.”

REV. RICK RICHARDSON

MARIO BERGNER

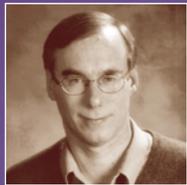

Rev. Mario Bergner founded and leads Redeemed Life Ministries, a pastoral care initiative for the cure and maturation of the soul. Currently, there are 10 Redeemed Life programs running worldwide. He is husband to Nancy and father to their five children. Rev. Bergner has an M.Div. from Trinity Episcopal School for Ministry. As an evangelical, charismatic Anglican priest, Rev. Bergner is one of the few ordained Anglicans taking a clear stand on the biblical view of sexuality. He is the author of Setting Love in Order (Baker, 1995) and numerous articles on healing and sexual redemption in Christ. Rev. Bergner has given apologetic lectures at university campuses on “A Christian Response to Homosexuality.” He has also given weekend seminars on curing the soul through healing prayer at churches in North America, Europe, Asia and Africa. For 16 years he ministered with Leanne Payne in Pastoral Care Ministries conferences worldwide, and for five years he served at Church of the Resurrection in Wheaton, Illinois, where he still worships with his family.

Rev. Mario Bergner led three sessions in the “Pastoral Response to a Sexually Broken World” seminar:

- A Pastoral Response to Homosexuality
- The Practice of the Presence of God
- Sin, the Cross and the True-Self

RICK RICHARDSON

Rev. Rick Richardson has served as the Field Director for Evangelism with InterVarsity Christian Fellowship as well as the Director for InterVarsity’s Emerging Culture Evangelism Project, and is now the Director of the Masters in Evangelism Program at Wheaton College. He is an ordained minister with an M.Div. from Northern Baptist Seminary. He is author of Evangelism Outside the Box: New Ways to Help People Experience the Good News, Circles of Belonging and the Groups Investigating God Bible discussion guides (InterVarsity Press).

Rev. Richardson led the following two sessions in the “Pastoral Response to a Sexually Broken World” seminar:

- Changing Culture, Changing Questions
- Bringing Healing to a Broken World

JULIANA WILHELM

Juliana Wilhelm (M.A. Clinical Psychology from Wheaton College) is a therapist in private practice specializing in the integration of Christian healing principles to help women recover from same-sex attraction, depression and anxiety. She has taught at Elmhurst College and Indiana Wesleyan University, and has also been a guest lecturer at both North Central College and Redeemed Lives Ministries Training Program. Juliana provides counseling services for Christ Church Oak Brook and currently works with Willow Creek Church in the training of pastoral caregivers.

Juliana Wilhelm brought the closing session of “Pastoral Response to a Sexually Broken World” in her talk, “Equipping the Church for Healing Prayer.”
